Jason's Bit

The big new this month is that I now have the new web site up and running.

The address is

www.jason-oates-games.com

From Now on, you can access newsletters on the day they are published, and not have to wait for the postman.

My GM email address is:

jason@jason-oates-games.com

There is also a download area with downloads for rules, maps, turnsheets etc.

Its quite exciting that there is so much more that can be added to the web site including interactive turn submission.

I have also signed up to Paypal, so you can pay online.

I hope that these improvements will really help to improve the way you experience games.

Regards Jason
