Game 11 November 2009

TTC Modifier = 0.8

The action in the South West continues. The Molteni have carried out a probe on the border village of Nana Mesa currently controlled by Government Forces. The attack was scheduled for night to cover the approach and advance to the village which is was thought was defended by as many as 70 troops with support and well defended with mines and wire. The probing forces of the Molteni clashed briefly with the defenders but discovered it to be ill prepared for defence. Although the attackers were too few to defeat the Government troops, they did inflict a number of losses on the garrison, while uncovering the inherent weakness of the fortifications.

Jason's Bit

I have cut the TTC Modifier this month after recent rises. Hope that makes for some advance in weapons technology for you.

It seems that the South East of the map is where all the action is. Hopefully this will remedy itself when the new year comes around and a new batch of players make their mark.

I have updated the Base Unit part of the rules to reflect commodity sales from airstrips. Please have a look at it, as it may be an important part of the game as your infrastructure grows, and may even help as your supply lines are stretched as you advance further from your main bases.

You should have seen the truck breakdown part of the programme limited to the monthly adjustment this month. This will help the game to run better and not leave your units stranded. Just remember to allocate the correct resources and repair units to the task and your truck will be back on the road. This was meant to be a minor nuisance brought about by the terrain and the quality of the vehicles, not a central part of the game and this change should be enough to make that happen.

Illegal Activity seems to be a bit of a problem but Its pretty easy really. Use a special action to set a level of illegal activity at a village. 5% is a good start but if you really need cash then 50%. This will almost certainly have a very negative effect on your Political Influence, but ONLY at the village with Illegal activity. Others use it to generate cash and those corrupt Government Forces have no qualms either.

That's it for another month

Regards Jason.
